SATURDAY, JULY 29, 1876.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION FOR 1876.

The Republicans of Maine and all independent voters who are in favor of preserving the results of the National Government, and a sound currency for the people—equivalent to coin, and redeemable in coin—are requested to send delegates to a State Convention to be held in the

for the purpose of nominating candidates for Governor, Member of Congress, and Electors-at-large, and to transact such other business as may come before the Convention.

Each city, town and plantation is entitled to one delegate, and one additional delegate for every fifty votes given for Gov. Republican candidate in 1875, and one additional delegate for a fraction of forty votes or over.

THE REPUBLICAN NOMINATION.

The Lewiston Journal of Thursday evening, in an article on the Republican State Convention, says the sound financial call of the Committee strikes the keynote of the campaign, and that "it is fitting that so able and earnest a friend of a sound currency as General Stewart L. Woodford, whose currency speeches in Ohio probably lifted the State to the Republicans in 1875, should have been invited to address the Convention." It then goes on to say

But little has been said on the question of the candidate. Governor Connor has successfully served the usual three terms, and does not ask another nomination, although it is understood he will consent to stand if the convention should desire. The general impression is that the convention will re-nominate him, although Gen. James of Gen. Frank Fessenden of Portland, Gen. Plaisted of Bangor and others have been incidentally suggested. That the convention will be large, unanimous and enthusiastic and will open an elegant and spirited canvass for sound principles, may be confidently expected.

While the position of Governor Connor is correctly stated, we think there has been a great deal said about the candidacy, and the expressions we have heard from the various parts of the State, indicate a practically universal conviction that the best interests of the State and of the party at this time will be most effectually promoted by the renomination of Governor Connor. That is the very earnest and decided feeling of the Republicans of this section who have the strongest local claims to be considered on the question, but who deem harmony and strength too important now to be hazarded by any contests or rivalries. It is distinctly understood that General Frank Fessenden is not a candidate for the office and that he will consent to no use of his name in opposition to Governor Connor. As for Gen. Plaisted, of this city, we do not understand why a hard money paper like the Journal should mention the name of a gentleman who has fully committed himself to the Greenback fanatics, in connection with the Republican candidacy for Governor. Gen. Plaisted has been found in ranks of the Democracy, for which party he voted for President in 1872, and additional opposition for Congress to his District, he stood, of course, heart and soul with all thought of any candidacy on the sound currency platform of the Republican party. That he has not as yet formally taken part with the Democracy we hardly believe, for doubt in the Convention will on Thursday be sought to compel money to Greenbackers the nomination hostile to their decisions imposed to him in an interview published in the Commercial, declared that if nominated by them he should accept, and that if nominated "he would be elected in spite of Hell or Heaven!" That he was not nominated then and after the first of the absurd lies he took of his own volition, and we are glad that his position is so defined at last as to relieve us from the embarrassment of being unable to refer to his position without being liable to be charged with misrepresentation.

No man occupying the equivocal and untenable stand on the financial question that Gen. Plaisted has for some time past could be eligible for a nomination by a Convention of sound money Republicans, and his call a recent open affiliation with the inflationist has rendered the further mention of his name in such a connection preposterous.

We have taken some pains to ascertain the feeling and wishes of Republicans throughout the State, and we have not the slightest idea that there will be any hesitation or serious question about the nomination being made from the ticket. Governor Connor's record as Executive is unexceptionable, no man could more fully command the confidence of the people of the State in his integrity and devotion to the public interests; and upon the great issue of financial honesty, he has put himself officially and publicly in position as an unconquerable opponent of any and all tampering or lax views of the National credit. We foresee no opposition of any kind to his renomination, and no doubt he will be unanimously nominated by acclamation.

The call which we publish elsewhere for the Convention and which has the sanction of the Congressional Committee, and many of the leading Republicans of the State, is issued in this section in accordance with the wishes of the Republican State Committee with whom it originated.

In Dr. Ladd's family "secession" has opened in Thursday, he was so very much displeased that people should accuse him and his party of Copperheadism or any sentimental leaning in that direction, that little Ned in the forenoon he described to a little playmate along the street, cast a rich man and the other a tramp. The rich man, he said, won't enter the front door of his house while the tramp would go in at the back door, demand food and clothes and if they were not given him "he would cuss them!" And then the Dr. declared with the fervor and demonstration of a full-fledged Copperhead that the starving tramp was more entitled to honor than the wealthy capitalist who sat in his richly furnished parlor! This sentiment was vociferously applauded from the bottom of his heart, as it would have been in the sociable beer-house of Justus Schwab by the red-leg revolutionists imported into New York! The same spirit runs through every Greenbacker who argues that we have [illegible] sanctioning the doctrine that the indigent, whether rendered so by misfortune, laziness, [illegible] or crime, have a legitimate right to prey upon and confiscate the property of all who have acquired and preserved it.

On the same occasion Dr. John F. Ladd, [illegible] by chairman, let himself loose in such talk as this:

"They have taken from us the paper currency; they have depressed the value of our property; they have ruin and our wives and children by taking from us the product of our labor. It is only for [illegible] and beholding like an unbeliever [illegible] to be [illegible] to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

MAINE NEWS.

FROM ROCKLAND.

Government Gives Emmanuel Mercone Custody.

ROCKLAND, July 25. United States Commissioner Hazel, of Portland, and District Attorney Lund arrived here to-day and a large number of persons were brought before the Commissioner this afternoon on complaints regularly made charging them with having sold manufactured tobacco without having paid the United States Internal Revenue tax. The sales being proved the parties were ordered to recognize for appearance before the United States District Court, or were given the alternative to settle by payment of the tax and costs. The tax is but 32, but the amount required to settle was fixed at $91 in several cases. Some of the parties recognized for appearance at the court and the remainder were released until to-morrow forenoon. The sales in all cases were on the day of Barnum's circus and persons claimed against it nearly every instance, were only engaged in peddling from booths, or otherwise, for the day and were unaware that they were violating any law. The penalty is looked upon as a great hardship and the impression is going abroad that the few young men who testified to the sales are informers traveling with the circus in pursuance to entrap, unwary and unconscious violators of the law for the love of profit, and great indignation was manifested against them. Early in the evening crowd of several hundred gathered around the hotel and filled the office, and finally began hustling one of the obnoxious persons and would have inflicted per cal violence upon him had not the police protected him and got him off to his room. The crowd remained in the vicinity of the hotel until a late hour in the evening freely expressing their indignation against the obnoxious witness.

Commissioner Rand says the witnesses are acting under direction of the Internal Revenue officers, but the popular feeling here is, that under the peculiar circumstances of these cases, great injustice has been done by the means taken to enforce the law.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

NEW YORK STATE.

Weekly Mustered.

WATERVALE, July 25. Charles Long, a son of Dr. Long, of this place, while fishing on Lake Cayuga last evening, was fatally shot by an unknown person and instantly killed. The affair has created intense excitement as the dead is supposed to have been commanded to prevent fishing in that locality.

The Murderer Arrested—Threats of Lynching Him.

Alton Dedrick, of Preston, had been arrested, and cot locked up pending Charles Long, that night, when the mob broke open Constable. He says he thought the party trumped trying to steal his place, and fired in self-defense. The mob then took him and threatened to hang him. The excitement is increasing and there are threats of lynching Dedrick.

NEW YORK CITY

Minister Noyes and the Potter Committee.

NEW YORK, July 26. Minister Noyes thinks that the Potter Committee should now be publicly censured by him, from the slanderous charges made against him, as they publicly associated him. He understands the Democratic members privately to insist that no case was made against him. He also states that when in Florida he did not act in the battle of the prominent Republican politicians of Florida setting forth the reasons, cause and circumstances of an attempt to secure the vote of one of the Republican canvassers for the Tilden electors. I think that letter will be satisfactory. This attempt is not limited to Mr. Noyes have reason to think that Cowgill, the other Republican member of the canvassing board, was approached in the same manner. This corrupt proposition met with no favor in either of them so far as my information goes. I am believed them to be above corruption and I have not changed my opinion. The amount named was large. Whose money or whether it was actually in hand I have no means of knowing.

ILLINOIS

Quincy Suffers Great Damage by Storm.

QUINCY, July 26. The city was visited last night by a heavy rain storm which did great damage in the city and vicinity. The streets in many streets amounts to nearly $10,000 and the damage to private property is much greater. Bridges across streams in and near the city were washed away, cellars and houses flooded, and in some instances stocks of goods in stores were greatly damaged. One family was surrounded by the flood and rescued late last night in boats. The rain is believed to be the most severe that ever visited this section.

The Mississippi Rain Fall on Record.

CHICAGO, July 26. The signal service observer here reports the rain fall of last night, according to the gauge, was over four inches, which is the greatest on record here in any one night. On some streets the water was several feet deep. A strong east wind was blowing during the greater time of the storm from 8 P. M. to 4 A. M. The water in the lake being forced up high on the westshore moved cellars for sewers and drains to discharge their contents considerable damage was caused by the flooding of basements.

YELLOW FEVER

Quarantine Precautions.

PENSACOLA, Fla., July 25. A ten days quarantine has been established by railroad and water at New Orleans.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

The Opposition of Some to National Authority.

NEW YORK, July 26. Gov. Hampton says relative to the trouble between the State and federal governments regarding the interference of federal officers, he is anxious that the case should be allowed to take its regular course in order that the constitutional issues may be settled for the future. It will ultimately go up through the State Supreme Court on appeal, and the U. S. Supreme Court with attorneys decide it in any event. If the government should permit the prosecution of recent and take pleas, as the prisoners by peremptory order, the case would be dismissed and needless excitement and would render the further enforcement of prosecutions impossible, the distillers would be led to think that the State authorities were unable to protect them, and the probability is that the greatest consequences would follow, and all the efforts to have the State and United States laws enforced would be rendered nugatory.

The State Supreme Court may decide in favor of the U. S. Government and, in that event, a perfect acquiescence would be cordially accorded. The opinion throughout the State, he said, was that Judge Hershaw was remarkably free from political or party feeling, and he is known to be a man of the highest character, both private and official. Nothing would make him swerve up the bounds of his office of violate the law. Hampton wrote to the President asking that it be allowed to take its regular course, assuring the President that he will heartily cooperate with him in enforcing the law.

THE NORTHERN CONVENTION.

S. M. Cushee Discomfited.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 26th. The Potter Committee met this morning, and the cross-examination of Senator Garfield was postponed for the present.

S. M. Bynner was recalled. He said that on Wednesday he was unable to fix upon any document against which have Senator Garfield's signature, but could now say that he had seen the Senator's signature in autograph albums and attached to a petition for office, with other members of Congress, also his franks and documents in reply to questions by Mr. Springer relative to the election of '76, in Louisiana. Witness said there was considerable opposition to Pedigrew's nomination for Governor among Republicans. Mr. Morey participated in which witness recited. It was read before the and approved were given all the rights they desired. In some sections he had heard of violence; and in connection with Republican speakers, learned that at Felicians, Alcorce, and Shreveport they had stones thrown at them in addition to other indignities. So far as his parish was concerned there was no intimidation.

Witness replied that he thought the nomination of Packard caused lukewarmness in some localities. The colored men complained that Kellogg did not vigorously enforce the laws for their protection. Chairman Potter enquired whether Packard was not a leader of the colored people. Witness replied that Packard was a kind of chief with them, and that they would not have nominated Kellogg but for Packard. Packard was not objected to his seat in the Senate. Pinchback left here and his followers partook of the same feeling.

In answer to Springer witness said, to the best of his recollection, he ought that when Weber showed him the Sherman letter it was in the handwriting of John Sherman and therefore genuine. Witness in reply to Blecock said there would be reason for Democratic citizens should vote for the State ticket. He believed there was intimidation by Republicans. Many Republicans were opposed to the Imperial policy which had that place several northern States and injured the Republican of Louisiana.

Mr. Blecock—You are perhaps a Republican?

A—No.

Mr. Blecock—I am glad I ask it, even that question, because Register was an opposition paper in Republican purpose Mr. Webster was extremely popular.

A—We were divided on the Wheeler question. Wheeler, with his compromises, sold us in '72. We don't believe in compromises in that county—giving everything to our foes and getting nothing in return.

Potter asked if public the allegations of fraud and intimidation were not made after the election? To which witness replied in the affirmative.

Q—Was not the result known at the time?

A—It was published in the newspapers. The witness, in reply, charged intimidation made by Republicans, in parishes where their vote had fallen off.

Mr. Blecock asked whether the Democratic party sought to consolidate the colored people to vote their ticket?

A—Yes, by various ways; they did as best they could. Many poorly informed other names were used in the parish.

Q—Did they use force and fraud to gain them by corruptions?

A—Yes, they were very affectionate to their Congress.)

Q—What do you mean by that?

A—We had a sharp contest on the social question. The Democrats sought party affiliation more than the Republicans. The Democrats established the system of the street cars and public schools. In this I think the Democrats outstripped us and beat us a little.

Q—You think such equality generally exists in Louisiana?

A—To a certain extent.

Potter—Do you mean to the extent of railroad and street cars?

A—That's a part of it.

THE WEATHER

Probabilities.

WASHINGTON, D. C. July 26—7 P. M.

Indications.

For New England: cloudy and rainy weather, warmer southerly, veering to colder Northeast winds, followed by rising barometer.

Cautionary signals continue at most of the Lake ports, and on the Atlantic coast from Wilmington, N. C., to Eastport, Me.

HOMICIDE AND DEATH.

James Doyle killed John Cropper in a quarrel at Cincinnati Thursday and escaped.

A letter at Sheridan's headquarters in Chicago from Capt. Daughtery, at Cypress Creek, has information that all Indians in the British possessions a month ago were encouraging a raid south of the line. Sitting Bull and a reconciled message to the Sioux to the Assiniboine Indians and a suggestion of closer alliances.

Coal mining in the Schuylkill region will be suspended next week. It is stated that miners are threatening a strike.

Reapers continue to be destroyed in Michigan by tramps. They burned a barn and one wheat stack of a prominent farmer near Battle Creek, and several self-binders are reported injured near Burr Oak, St. Joseph County.

A Chicago despatch says that the Bulls obtained possession of the wheat market Thursday, and run the price up five and six cents per bushel, both in that city and Milwaukee. Many of the small houses on the Board side failed.

There is sickness in Vicksburg from two yellow fever deaths.

General Sherman was with Bradley's expedition Tuesday, and believes that Bliss' fight will not go across the line.

Extra insurance on the cargo of the steamship City of Pekin at San Francisco Thursday ranged from 10 to 30 per cent.

Kiernan's despatch states that the steamship Persia was spoken Friday morning, two miles outside of San Francisco harbor.

The sail-boat Nautilus, from Boston for Havre, 26 days out, was spoken on the 23d inst., in lat. 48°, long. 10°—all well on board. She was here 19 days, and several days calm weather short of after leaving port.

Lieut. George B. Rose, who commanded the Gatlin which ran the blockade at Vicksburg, was appointed by Collector Merritt to take the duties of weigher, vacated by O'Brien Thursday.

The Clan Magnal Association of St. Louis has appointed committees to raise a fund for the defence of those charged with the assassination of Lord Lokrin in Ireland and called a mass meeting for Monday evening.

A letter from Australia says that the British ship Leonard from London for Melbourne, with cargo valued at 250,000, was lost near Cape Otway on the morning of June 1st. Miss Eva Carnahan was the only passenger saved out of seventeen, and a midshipman named Thomas Pearce is sole survivor of a crew numbering thirty-two.

Reports at secret sessions of the National Class of Knights of Labor at Philadelphia this week show that the order now boasts 50,000.

Chief Cunningham, of the Twenty-fourth Infantry, corresponding at Fort Abraham Lincoln, says in the 4th Dakotaian correspondence that the Sioux Indians are determined to resist the advance of the whites, and believed had returned to Lincoln, and are there preparing a second expedition against the government of Mexico, that should not be the case. Such an attempt, he says, would be resented as hostile by the Indians and would create a unanimity of feeling there in favor of the present government.

FOREIGN NEWS.

EUROPEAN DEPREDATIONS.

Alleged Slovenly Espionage by Instruments and Emissaries.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 26. The Bulgarian authority have received official reports of continued wanton destruction of Mussulman property in the Philippopolis district by Bulgarian marauders. The reports are so full and circumstantial that there is no room to doubt their accuracy, and the horrors committed are so shocking and revolting that their publication must create the conviction that the nation is rapidly in the power of the worst elements of the people, the new condition of the country will be more deplorable than under Russian domination.

The Correspondence of Statesmen.

LONDON, July 27. The Manchester Guardian's Constantinople despatch says advices from Bosnia state that the Turks are preparing to resist Russian occupation of that place. Russian evacuation of positions about Constantinople began in three or four days.

The Evacuation of Shumla.

VIENNA, July 26. The evacuation of Shumla took place on the 20th in the best order, the Russians entered the city amid the blessings of the Christians. Previous to the surrender the following convention was agreed to:

The Turkish troops are to leave the fortifications taking their side arms, guns and munitions of war, and going to Varna by the highway, the places along which at present occupied by the Russians to be, during the time of the march, guaranteed by them in order to avoid possible collision.

For the maintenance of order the Turkish local police will remain in the fortifications, as also the artillery corps to guard the guns.

The occupation of the fortifications by the Russians to be carried out as they are evacuated by the Turks.

All artillery and war material to be the property of the Sultan and remain in charge of the Turkish corps until arrangements are made for transporting it.

The Turkish civil authorities to be replaced by Russian officials.

Meanwhile, until the new arrangements are completed, the Kalmakam with six Turkish officials to remain in the fortification to superintend the affairs of the Sublime Porte.

A commissioner of Ottoman descent is also to be left to direct the transport of war materials.

Russian military authorities agreed to protect the Mahommedan population.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Nothing textile is in great demand.

The ladies are referred to Dudley & Co's advertisement.

Another party went to Hermon, Thursday of camp ont.

The lumber mills will be interested in the notice to log owners.

It is expected that there will be a large crop of potatoes this fall.

The Norfolk Jubilee Singers contemplate a tour through Piscataquis County.

Parties desiring to invest in timber and wood land, are referred to notice in another column.

Mr. O. M. Shaw, of the Pilsworth, Portland, has purchased a valuable Hambletonian horse.

Mr. Read, Treasurer of the Bangor & Piscataquis Railroad Company goes to Boston this morning.

We understand that Andrews' Orchestra will give a social hop at the Fort Point Hotel this evening.

Messrs. Paul & Webb will sell five hundred berry baskets at their office this morning at eleven o'clock.

Hon. Llewellyn Powers, our efficient Representative in Congress, arrived at the Exchange last evening.

Thursday, thirteen steamboats touched at Fort Point. The hotel now contains a large number of guests.

Rev. J. C. Adams, of Newtonville, Mass. will preach in the Universalist Church, Orono, Sunday forenoon.

A summary of the business transacted at the June term of the Probate Court, will be found on the first page this morning.

There will be a praise meeting, assisted by Andrews' Orchestra in the First Congregational Church, Brewer, Sunday evening.

The travel to Moosehead Lake is increasing. Quite a party arrived in the city on the boat yesterday, bound for that popular resort.

For the benefit of the stock-growers we will announce that a new cheese has been discovered to be off perfect of hand, having down cows.

It rained hard all day yesterday until about five o'clock, when it let up for a few hours, but during the night there was a strong wind and it rained harder than ever.

A three-masted schooner loaded with coal, arrived in this port yesterday and will discharge her cargo up to the dam for some station along the line of the Maine Central.

The torrid wave is believed now to have passed completely over, and the weather prophets say that the worst of the "dog days," as the Irishmen call it, is passed.

A youth who desired to express his appreciation of the entertainment in Knowlton last evening rendered a selection from Mr. Cook which shocked him very suddenly.

W. R. Brown, the agent for the Kennebec Canning Manufacturing Company, makes a statement in another column which will be of interest to canning manufacturers.

A dancing school at Greenville, attended by some sixteen couples, has been in progress during the holiday of the present season. Mr. Willard Parks of this city has been instructor.

One of our citizens who was in St. John, Thursday, said he saw seven steamers and sailing, while the crews were walking to see whether the boat race was coming off or not, this he ever saw before in his life.

The steamer May Field started to take an excursion from Calais yesterday, but as the weather was unfavorable, Capt. Burbank gave the party a short sail and then returned to the city. The excursion was postponed for two weeks.

A gentleman suggested yesterday, that it was about time that another thickness of plank was placed on the crossing in front of Kenduskeag Block, as the concrete is working up through the old ones.

Prof. Hamlin, of the Seminary, will speak in the Central church to-morrow evening upon the results of the late European Congress in relation to religious freedom and the interests of Missions.

Yesterday Mr. Geo. S. Toothaker left at this office some fine specimens of wheat raised by Charles W. Loud of Woodland Plantation, Aroostook County. It measures five feet three and one-half inches from the first joint, and the head measured six inches.

A few days since Mr. B. F. Dillingham got two money orders cashed at the Post Office, one from Bolivar, Tenn., and the other from Hastings, Minn., both numbered 11,787. It was a little singular that two orders from different States bearing the same number, should be cashed by one man in the same time.

The last heard this instant in the State Canvassing Board at Portland, will find old acquaintances at the Falmouth Hotel, which is admirably conducted by Messrs. G. M. Shaw & Son, formerly of this city. The Falmouth is one of the finest hotels in New England and the present proprietors are making it exceedingly popular.

At a regular meeting of the Supreme Court a bold but evening there was a committee of five appointed to frame a code of by-laws and constitution for the new and organization of the company; something that has exemplary was much in need of as they I am had nothing of the kind since the organization, eight years ago. An opportunity is afforded for some twelve good men to join the company.

An exchange says: "Small farmers make near neighbors, they make good roads; they make plenty of good schools and churches; there is more money made in proportion to the labor; less labor is waste, every thing is kept neat; less wages have to be paid for help; less room is wasted, more is raised to the acre; besides it is filled better. So do not let the cause of small farms be discouraged."

GOOD TIME. The following item appeared in Wednesday morning's Eastern Argus: "James H. Gillispie of Bangor, Me., yesterday walked in this city seven miles in 61m. 45s. The quickest mile was made in 7m. 35s." Mr. Gillispie is desirous of making a match with Driscoll, the Portland pedestrian, for a twenty-five mile walk, the match to take place in Bangor. He says he will be ready in two weeks after signing articles of agreement.

An exchange says: "Dog days were ushered in since the season of greatest heat in newspapers in the islands of the Mediterranean, nearly corresponded with that in which he dog-star rose at the same time with the sun. To this conjunction antiquity ascribed a malignant influence. The precise hour when the dog star rises with the sun is very indefinite. It does not appear until about the 15th of August, when the greatest heat of summer is over. [Dog days end Sept. 5th."

FIRE. Yesterday afternoon. About two years ago, a little boy some five years old, son of Mr. Charles Haga, of Milwaukie, was given over by a heavy wagon, which crushed one of his legs in a shocking manner. On Tuesday of this week he was again run over by the same wagon, and had the same leg crushed from the hip to the knee. The little fellow was taken home and two physicians called, who did all in their power to alleviate his suffering, and properly dressed the wounded limb.

BREWER. The Republicans of Brewer held their caucuses to choose delegates to the State and District Conventions, at the Town Hall, at 7½ o'clock this (Saturday) evening. Dr. Charles H. French of Brewer, was quite badly in the back by one of the shives connected with the shive planer at Smith, Woodbury & Co.'s mill, at that place, last Thursday morning. Mr. F. was under the machine doing some work, and in so attempted to get up, being too near the knives, one of them entered his side, cutting nearly through to the lung. He went home and his wife dressed the wound, and Mr. F. was so as to be about in the afternoon.

MACHIAS PORT. The sloop yacht "Wanda", of Boston, arrived in this port Thursday afternoon. The party on board consists of Messrs. George Leatherbee, W. I. Badger, and J. D. Sar I, of Boston, and E. L. Dillingham, and Henry Jefferds, of this city. The little craft is fitted up in a neat and convenient manner, and the party propose making an extended cruise along our coast, and have already spent some three weeks on board on their way from Boston. They will go to Fort Point to-day, then proceed to Castine, and from there to Mr. Desert. We wish them a pleasant trip. Messrs. Jefferds, Dillingham and Badger, enter Yale this fall, and Mr. Leatherbee, Harvard College.

"FLICK AND FLOCK." The comic pantomime entitled "Flick and Flock," was presented in Norombega Hall last evening before a good sized audience. Every one laughed heartily, and all were kept in the best possible humor during the entire evening. Mr. Coes sang several ballads in his usual pleasing manner, and Lulu Schoolcraft made lots of fun for the audience. The double trapeze performance by Mella Geraldine and Geo. Leopold was one of the best we have ever seen, and Hazel, the juggler, was excellent. They will give a matinee performance this afternoon, at half-past five o'clock, and another entertainment in the evening, and will undoubtedly have good houses on both occasions.

EXCURSION TO PORTLAND AND OLD ORCHARD. The attention of our readers is called to the grand excursion over the Maine Central and Boston & Maine Railroads, to Portland and Old Orchard Beach, on the fifteenth of next month. The fare for the round trip, from this city, is only $2.25, and those desiring to stop at Portland can purchase tickets at a discount of twenty-five cents by notifying the agents. A special train will leave this city at 6 A. M., and arrive at Portland at 11.30 A. M., and the Old Orchard train will leave Portland at 5.30 P. M. As the price of the ticket for the excursion is less than one-half the regular fare, our citizens and people in the neighboring towns generally will avail themselves of this opportunity of visiting one of Maine's most popular summer resorts.

FLOOR. We find the following in the Lewiston Journal:

Would Jones mind that not, and was all known of the men of mechanics, that have great excellence, a little philosophic self-reliance shown in the home of Mrs. Hamlin, on Bartlett street, Lewiston, a patent fly-trap had been in use a few weeks, and something like ten days ago the owner of the trap began to make an actual count of the prisoners, the count being made at about 7 o'clock each morning. His project in so doing was to ascertain the cause of it, but before they reached the store the flies disappeared. They tried the door and found it fastened then they went to the window, could see no light but much smoke. They broke open the door and found the room in flames; one Hasty in the back part of the room, he said some one must have set the fire; did not see any of the rest of the family. Officer Keene corroborated Doyle's statements. Mr. Hasty was examined and said he was awakened by the smoke and ran out of his room into the store and when he found that there was a fire he went back and got the little girl up, and at the same time put on his clothes, and on coming back to the front stairs the second time, met the officer. Mr. H. said he thought the store was entered by burglars and after trying what money they could find set fire to the store to enable them to get off without the robbery being known. Several other witnesses were examined, but nothing of importance was learned from them. The jury adjourned until Thursday afternoon. They gave their verdict Thursday evening and were unanimous in the belief that Gen. N. Hasty set the fire discovered in his store. Hasty was arrested last night and will be examined before Judge Howes to-day.

METHODIST EXCURSION.

A Large Party—Fine Concert.

A fine party of six hundred people embarked on the Clifford, Friday morning in the midst of a sharp shower, bound for Northport camp-ground, a grand concert and a good time. When two miles down river, a severe rain storm had apparently set in, and the managers decided to return. The boat was accordingly headed about, but before she had reached her wharf, the passengers very generally expressed the r preference to make the excursion, rain or shine, so the obliging Captain Jordan again came about and started down river. The Clifford took on board a party of one hundred at Hampden, and the Rowel brought on board about two hundred from Bucksport, the whole party number ng about eight hundred persons, when the excursion arrived at its destination. No rain or fog was encountered after leaving Wampden, and the grounds at Northport were dry. Two steamers brought parties from Belfast and Castine, and when the hour for the concert had arrived, one thousand people had assembled in the camp-ground auditorium. The following is the programme of the concert, all parts of which were most excellently performed, taking into consideration the unusual effort required to sing in the open air, on so damp a day:

PROGRAMME.

PART I.

1. Overture—"La Sonnambula"..... Bowmian.
Andrews' Orchestra.
2. The Brook Miller's Song..... L. O. Emerson.
Fischbeck Quartette.
3. Song—"The Fairy Queen's Dream"
Miss Ella M. Wing.
4. "Queen of Flowers," (Duet for two voices)..... Lamont.
Misses Delaney and Warren
Orchestra.
5. Chant—"Show me your Thy Cross"..... Rhodes.
Fischbeck Quartette.

PART II.

6. Duet—"Ah, we Love Me"..... Bellport.
E. L. Smith and C. Partington.
7. Flower Song..... Lange.
Orchestra.
8. Quartette—"Revery,"..... Dow.
Fischbeck Quartette.
9. Song—"The Fairies' Revel"..... Hickory.
Miss Ella M. Wing.
10. Potpourri—"Companion"..... Godin.
Orchestra.

Miss Wing and the Fischbeck Quartette were encalled. After the concert the remainder of the afternoon was p casantly passed in viewing the improved grounds. At 4.30 the Clifford started on its return. When the barge had cleared the wharf at Hampden, the Rowell came along side to take on board the Brewer passengers. They were all supposed to be on board and the Rowell had cast off, when a lady Colonel to get on board. Mr. Hudson Burbee, the clerk of the Clifford, heard upon the Rowell's generals to assist her, and after delay, attempted to jump aboard the barge; but the boats had separated rapidly and he fell between them into the water. Chains were hastily thrown overboard and the alarm was hastily given, before the small boat, towed by the barge for both emergencies, had pushed off. In less than three minutes man and chains were safely towed. Great confusion was created among the passengers by the cry "man overboard," and a lady, Mrs. John ——, fainted. A physician was immediately thereof her, but the lady being subject to a heart trouble, it was feared when the boat had reached Bangor, that the attack would result fatally.

The Rockport Seminary, in aid of which the excursion was originated, was kindly remembered in the offerings of its friends. Miss Trescottt, the Preceptress of the R. M. C. Seminary, deserves special mention, as also Messrs. Dunbar, Parks and others of Bangor, for untiring labors in the enterprise.

While Morning's Nire.

At about half-past two o'clock this morning fire was discovered in the stable connected with Mr. J. T. Dinsmore's house on Cedar street, and an alarm was sounded. The wind was blowing a gale at the time, and the cinders were carried in perfect shower and showered upon the buildings in the vicinity, and at one time it looked as though the fire was destined to spread. But thanks to the rain the roofs of the buildings were wet, and as the firemen worked with a will the dangerous fire soon under control. The stable was torn down, and the ell of the house considerably damaged. The origin of the fire is unknown. Mr. D. informed us that he was the one who sleeps in the ell of the house was awakened by the smoke, and after arousing the rest of the family, he gave an alarm. Those discovered the flames were creeping up the front side of the ell-like and of the wind was blowing hard the whole building was soon in flames and it made a wild looking sight. It was impossible to ascertain the amount of loss owing to the lateness of the hour. Most of the furniture was removed, but was replaced as soon as the fire was under control. There is an insurance of $2,000 on the property, in Messrs. Pearl & Webb's agency.

ACHES AS A TONIC.

Whether the pain be in a most powerful and crucial form and the disease is most obstinately fixed in the blood, it cannot resist the influence of Acheas as a Tonic. It tones the blood, it tones the nerves, it tones the whole system, and all diseases and disorders, no matter in what part of the system they may be found, must yield to its magic influence. Acheas as a Tonic is the great remedy of the age. Acheas as a Tonic is the great remedy of the age. Acheas as a Tonic is the great remedy of the age
